LUCKY MAN—Yorba Linda Paramedics and members of the Fire Department Volunteer Rescue Squad render assistance to John West, 30, of Corona, whose pickup truck crashed into a tree on July 10th. The accident occurred at Imperial Highway and Valley View at 11:20 a.m. West said he lost control of his vehicle. He sustained serious facial lacerations but initial indications of possible internal injuries and a concussion proved unfounded. After treatment at the scene the victim was taken by Ambulance to Placentia Linda Hospital. A YL Fire Department engine crew washed gas from the area that spilled from a ruptured vehicle gas line. ## Bob Young Injured In Accident

Robert F. Young of Fullerton, son of Jack and Elaine Young of Yorba Linda, has been transferred to St. Jude Hospital, Fullerton for treatment of injuries sustained in a recent auto accident.

Young and his wife Kellie were returning home from a niece's wedding in San Jose when engine trouble near Fresno forced them to the side of the freeway.

When Young got out to investigate, he was struck by another car. He suffered compound fractures of both legs, internal injuries and a concussion.

Young is an employee of B&B Chevrolet, Yorba Linda.

Anti-Rabies Clinic At Park July 24

A low cost anti-rabies vaccination clinic will be held in the evening of Thursday, July 24th, between the hours of 7 and 8:30 p.m. at Nixon Park, Yorba Linda. The park is located on Imperial Highway at Yorba Linda Boulevard.

Dog owners in Yorba Linda, as well as those in surrounding communities, will have the opportunity to have their pet vaccinated against rabies for the fee of $2. Dogs must be at least four months of age.

The clinic will be staffed by members of the Southern California Veterinary Medical Association, and the Yorba Linda 4-H members, who are contributing their time as a public service to the pet owners in this area.

For the protection of the pet and the community against rabies, all dog owners are urged to take advantage of this clinic to have their pet vaccinated.

Fast Work Minimizes Fire Loss

Yorba Linda firefighters quickly squelched a threatening blaze at 10:52 p.m. on July 8 at a residence at 18752 Avolinda Drive.

The first unit on the scene found smoke issuing from most of the windows in the two story dwelling. Fast action confined the blaze to miscellaneous household items stored in the garage.

The cause was listed as spontaneous combustion due to flammable items and painting equipment. Damage was estimated at $600.

Control Of Signs Worries Planners

by Sara Emmons

City Planning Commission Wednesday, disclosed two problems with approving a conditional use permit for Dabelstein Feed Store on Yorba Linda Boulevard.

Signs and landscaping, said commissioners, do not conform to city ordinance and policy, and haven't for the past two years.

It was resolved, however, because of the city's lack of a master sign plan for the building, that the permit be approved for another 60 days pending public hearing.

"Whenever somebody gets a use permit, the Planning Commission can direct what happens to landscaping and signs," said Vince Bautista, commissioner.

"Several signs are in violation of city sign ordinance. The hearing will determine continuance of the permit, which we don't like to take away, because it means taking away a guy's business."

The commission wrote a letter to the owner after the workshop telling him what will happen if the property is not landscaped and if the city does not come up with a sign policy.

In addition to the sign code, the commission is setting a city-side policy with the following preferences:

- Carved wood signs tastefully designed.
- Non-illuminated over illuminated.
- Externally illuminated only if the source of light is not visible.
- Electric signs without high output sources.
- No neon signs.
- Internally illuminated signs on after business hours or at 10 p.m.,

New School Day Schedule

Pupil 'Wheels'; Remedial Reading In Revised Budget

by Paul Bush

Yorba Linda students can ride a bus to school again next year, and junior high students with reading problems will probably be able to take remedial classes.

Those two issues, which prompted sometimes heated discussion at the last two Yorba Linda School District Board of Trustees meetings, were settled Thursday night when the Trustees adopted a general fund budget of $2.9 million and a school day schedule for the 1975-76 school year.

The budget contains a six thousand dollar savings in transportation costs, made possible, according to Board president James Bremer, by the new school day schedule.

Next year, first through sixth grades will begin classes at 8:00 a.m. and end at 2:30 p.m. Kindergarten students will attend school from 8 to 11 a.m. or from 11:30 to 2:30 p.m. while junior high students will be in class from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

In past years, first, second and third graders were bussed home one hour earlier than their older classmates. The eliminated bus trip, according to assistant superintendent J. Elton Patridge, will save the district money originally budgeted for driver time, tires, gasoline and repairs.

The revised budget also contains one full time substitute elementary teaching position, which will free one teacher to return to the junior high.

Junior high principal John Best indicated the reinstated teacher will probably be reading lab instructor Bob Allen. Best also said the additional teacher, "in essence adds an elective to the program which will free other teachers." Best suggested in-service training of other junior high teachers may also allow the resumption of remedial math classes.

The Instructional Media Center coordinator has also been reinstated, but the junior high librarian has not. Former junior high librarian Jerry Knowles called the elimination of his position "a tragic step backwards".

Speaking for his fellow trustees, Board president James Bremer said they were "all very unhappy that it was not possible to put back the research program at the junior high".

Also cut from the revised budget are landscaping and grass for the new Linda Vista school. Bremer said he hoped the community would make landscaping the new school, which was built with state funds, a Bicentennial project.

Approximately one half the funds necessary to present junior high graduation ceremonies was reinstated in the $2,986,522 budget. Previous budget proposals contained no funding for the ceremonies.

Salary and fringe benefit agreements for principals, assistant-principals and psychologists, teachers and classified personnel were also adopted by the Board.

In each of the three agreements, the district pledged to pay its employees the average salary for similar positions in the other 14 elementary school districts in Orange County.

Funds to cover up to a 4 per cent cost of living increase for all employees are included in the revised budget. If, on September 1, the average salary exceeds the budgeted 4% increase, payment will be contingent upon receipt of sufficient federal, state, and local funds to cover the excess.

In addition the Board agreed to continue providing medical and dental insurance for all employee groups. A final public hearing on the revised general fund budget is scheduled for August 5 at the Education Center, at 4701 Casa Loma Avenue.

Whether or not due to the city's new oil-well tax, no permits for new wells have been issued this year, the report noted, versus 8 the first half of 1974.

Ky To Face Questions

Nguyen Cao Ky, the former premier of Saigon's military regime, has faced all kinds of questioners, inquirers and interrogators but come July 21 he'll be pitted against a panel and other interested men and women from throughout the North Orange County Community College District.

The former South Vietnamese air vice marshal will be the guest of Fullerton College, addressing a free, public Fullerton College Forum at 7:30 p.m. in the 1,300-seat Plummer Auditorium.

Zimmermans Seek Title At Fair

Bob Hope will be Master of Ceremonies for Senior Citizens Day at the Orange County Fair July 15, Tuesday at Costa Mesa. Part of the festivities will be the crowning of the King and Queen.

Nominated from the Senior Citizens Club of Yorba Linda were Helen and Lloyd Zimmerman, long time residents of the city. The "Royal Pair" will be chosen at a noon luncheon. At 2 p.m. "His and Her Majesties" will be presented to the public from the band stand. All who can possibly go will be needed to root for the local contestants. Discount coupons may be picked up at most stores and markets.

Regular admission $1.75, with discount, $1.25. Fair hours are Monday thru Friday 12 noon to 10 p.m.

AN HISTORIC PLACE—the Yorba Cemetery, now surrounded by Yorba Linda homes, will soon receive the attention it requires to establish it as an historic monument. Monday special ceremonies were held revealing plans to refurbish the graveyard and create a recreational area around it. Here a new generation surveys the project, John Tatum, Glenknoll Elementary School student, along with developer David A. Weaver, Albert Yorba, Congressman Charles Wiggins and Ray Rhoads from Orange County Supervisor Ralph Diedrich's office.

CORRUGATED CONDITION—of Ohio Street occasioned some growling by Yorba Linda City Council members, some of whom had heard gripes from their constituents. The east side of the roadway has been torn up due to pipeline installation and north bound motorists often find it necessary to drive on the wrong side of the road. City staff assured council members as much as possible would be done, as quickly as possible, to remedy the situation.

The Ronald Reagan Column

By RONALD REAGAN
Copley News Service

John Kenneth Galbraith, who seems determined to prove that economics is an inexact science, has written a new book, "Economics and the Public Purpose".

It has one major surprise. After asserting that "market arrangements in our economy have given us inadequate housing, terrible mass transportation, poor health care and a host of other miseries," for the first time, to my knowledge, he gives us socialism as the answer.

Like so many of his philosophical brethren, Galbraith is obsessed with the idea of central control of the economy and the allocation of resources such as your earnings and your labor.

Recently, he joined with some friends in something called the Initiative Committee for National Economic Planning. "Economic planning", presumably, is the code word for "socialism". With tongue in cheek, the National Review described Galbraith and his fellow committee members as "bold young radicals". No wonder, because the committee included such old central planning fans as Robert Heilbroner, Gunnar Myrdal, Michael Harrington, Arthur Schlesinger Jr., Leonard Woodcock and even Betty Furness.

Galbraith and his friends seem more interested in dealing with fairy tales than reality. Looking at his quotation above, I wonder where he's been. Already I have lived 10 years longer than my life expectancy when I was born (to the probable annoyance of some).

At that time, something between half and two-thirds of our people lived in what we would describe as substandard housing. Today, fewer than 10 per cent do. And, today 99 per cent have gas and electricity in their homes; 96 per cent have television sets, thus access to information.

And, we have more churches, libraries and voluntary support for more symphonies, operas and nonprofit theaters than the rest of the world put together.

Yet, Galbraith & Co. beat the drums incessantly for the control and order that come with central planning.

For a sample of the paradise such planning can produce, we need only look at India and East Germany, to name two.

Better yet, we could emulate a great nation more our size, a nation of some 250 million capable people and one rich in natural resources. The Kremlin has had nearly 60 years in which to make socialism work.

We could be just like the Russians, though it would take a bit of doing.

We'd have to cut our paychecks back by more than 80 per cent; move 33 million workers back to the farm; destroy 59 million television sets; tear up 14 out of every 15 miles of highway; junk 19 or every 20 automobiles; rip up two-thirds of our railroad track; knock down 15 per cent of our houses and remove nine out of every ten telephones.

Then all we'd have to do would be to find a capitalist country willing to sell us wheat on credit to keep us from starving.

furthermore...

by Jim Arkison

The column got off to a roaring start last week with a glaring typo in the heading. For the benefit of the layman a "typo" is a printing mistake.

The name of this column is "furthermore" not "futhermore" as it appeared. I wouldn't feel so badly except that I had gone to a lot of pain to explain the name.

To compound the matter Production Manager Jim Peres and I worked together on the page layout and neither of us noticed the misspelling. There were a couple of red faces when it was pointed out to us the next morning.

It was very gratifying to have some office visitors and a few telephone calls of welcome to the community following the announcement of my appointment.

I was amused to see how the two big area dailies, the LA Times and the Herald Examiner, headlined the controversial new marijuana law story.

The Times played it straight with a headline "Brown Signs Marijuana Law." The Examiner headline writer used some imagination by proclaiming: "State Goes to Pot." From the comments I heard the consensus agreed with the latter viewpoint as the new law does not appear to be popular in Yorba Linda.

We were fortunate in having two children go through school during the blossoming popularity of marijuana use among youngsters without having them "experiment" or become regular users. Children of several of our friends did the opposite and the embarrassment and humiliation of the parents was painful to witness.

One of the plus factors in coming to work in Yorba Linda is the opportunity to renew my former association with Congressman Chuck Wiggins. He used to represent a portion of Azusa where I live and I have known him since his initial press conference when he announced his Congressional candidacy.

I regard him as a highly capable representative of the people and, in my opinion, Yorba Lindans and the other residents of the 39th District are fortunate to have him in Washington.

Wiggins has revealed the results of a recently conducted poll which drew a 10% response from his constituents.

Questions dealing with the economy and federal spending as a stimulant to economic recovery drew responses clearly reflecting a mood of fiscal restraint. While 79% favored limiting federal spending as an anti-inflationary move almost the same figure was recorded in reflecting sympathy for social security recipients with regards to a cost of living increase.

Respondents overwhelmingly oppose the confiscation of all weapons and a federal law prohibiting the manufacture for sale in interstate commerce of either hand guns or long guns.

The right of public employees to strike drew a little support but binding arbitration was approved as a means of settling disputes between public employees and employers.

I dread the day when the United States totally converts to the metric system of measurement. Arithmetic or math, in any of its many forms, from the basics on up the scale, have never been my strong suit.

I like the way the State Department of Water Resources is handling the problem. They will give metric equivalents in parentheses after the English measurements in text and tables in all future publications.

Letters Flag Abuse

To the Editor:

Elks Lodge #2536 of Placentia-Yorba Linda would like to call your attention to a "happening" that occurred June 26th on Santa Fe Street in the "All American City" of Placentia at almost the beginning of this country's Bi-Centennial Celebration.

A group of young men, reportedly training with the Cross Country team for Valencia High School were running along Santa Fe Street when they passed an American Flag on a staff in front of a building. One of the runners ran over and took the flag, and ran down the street passing the flag forward to the front runner of the group who waved the flag as they ran down the street. When personnel of the company owning the flag caught up with the group and asked for the return of the flag, the person holding the flag dropped it upon the ground and ran over it. The entire group then followed suit, trampling the flag, leaving it in the gutter as they ran down the street.

The purpose of this letter is to call attention to this act defiling the flag of our country. The flag represents every American citizen, old and young, rich and poor, strong and weak. To show such disrespect to our flag shows disrespect to every citizen. The strength of this great country is represented by the flag. This act of disrespect weakens this country because it reduces every individual's pride in his own ability, so the country is diminished by that degree. If we allow such activity to go unchallenged, even though it might be an unthinking, careless, immature act of a few, every American will be diminished. We cannot tolerate this kind of activity.

As this incident was caused by students as part of a school activity, it causes us to wonder about the scholastic content of their training concerning the American way of life as presented by the Placentia Unified School District. It is our sincere hope that this incident was just a single occurrence and that the school board and teachers of the school district do teach and believe in the ideals that the Flag of our Country does in reality represent. We are also curious about their home life.

Respectfully yours,
Charles Parker, Secretary
Placentia-Yorba Linda
Elks Lodge #2536
Placentia

Gambles Grateful

Editor:

The Joseph P. Gambles are appreciative of the fine service rendered by the Yorba Linda Fire Department when a brush fire last week on an adjacent lot brought immediate response. That same evening Mr. Gamble suffered a heart attack and again the response to their call was swift, only this time the Paramedics came.

Mr. Gamble was taken to Placentia-Linda Hospital and is recovering at home. Grateful on two counts, they wish to thank both the departments for their excellent service.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Gamble

Sidewalk Pleases

Dear Editor:

We, the citizens of Yorba Linda who walk to the Post Office, thank Mayor Carolyn Ewing and Street Supervisor Louis Gomez for laying the sidewalk along the Adams Orchard on Lemon Street, opposite the District Library.

This improvement was long needed. Many people, old and young, walk along this street to the Post Office.

I have seen cripples in wheel chairs, mothers with baby carriages and others walking and dodging cars along this street. Fortunately, no one was hit by a car.

Now we can walk in comparative safety; the city government looks out for our welfare.

Sincerely,
Clarence Duncan

Keesey Services

Funeral services were held last Monday for Charles Benton Keesey, a Yorba Linda resident for 16 years, who died on July 11 at the age of 81. He was born in Ohio in 1894.

Mr. Keesey moved to Yorba Linda after retiring from his own business, the Compton Woodturning Co. in the City of Compton. He had operated the firm for 27 years.

A member of the city's Coffee Club, he was active in the Republican Party. Mr. Keesey belonged to Masonic Lodge, Signal Hill 543 in Long Beach.

He is survived by his wife Virginia and two brothers. Services were conducted by Rev. Dale Whitehead at the McAulay and Wallace Funeral Home, Fullerton, with interment at Loma Vista Memorial Park, Fullerton.

S. Vietnam Cabinet Member Resident Of Placentia

BY BETTY MEAD

The doctor, who until two months ago was the Minister of Health of South Vietnam, with the responsibility of health service for 21 million Vietnamese and a million refugees and war victims, Dr. Ton That Niem, now lives quietly in a small garage apartment in the heart of Placentia.

The young, personable doctor is extremely grateful for the refuge for him and his attractive family.

Torn by years of war, the loss of a homeland and his inability to extricate all members of his and his wife's family from the remnants of a proud country, Dr. Niem surveys his future.

He was perhaps one of the last persons to leave South Vietnam.

He describes the experience: "Now, I can't imagine how I got out of Saigon. The climate was so troubled. I got out on Tuesday, April 29. I was picked up by an American helicopter from the center of Saigon at 7 p.m. and taken to the Saigon Airport at 8 p.m. Saigon fell at 10 a.m. the next morning."

Educated in Vietnam, a country that grants education a top priority, Dr. Niem has held many responsible positions in his country's government and in civilian life. He was a duly elected senator in Vietnam with a six year term and a key member of the National Union Cabinet, the last minute effort thrown together to save the country after President Thieu's resignation.

The effort was too late.

As Minister of Health, the equivalent in this country of the cabinet post of Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Dr. Niem had in his charge 60 specialized and provincial hospitals and 15,000 medical and paramedical personnel. Other positions, previously held, are equally impressive.

His first words are in appreciation for his new-found Placentia friends and the affection bestowed upon him and his family: "I receive a lot of help from the Calvary Church and the friends of the Calvary Church. I have the feeling that if you had come to my country, as I have, that you would not have found such kind, so nice people to help you...as I receive here...as my friends from Calvary Church."

"I would like to mention particularly the family of Pastor Lewis (Phillip Lewis), the family of Mrs. Pritchett (Lewis-Barbara), who house my family at the present time, the family of Mr. Redding (Elcho Redding, Orange Coast College professor), who is teaching all my family English and certainly I cannot forget my friends in this area."

"Their attitude, their love, surprised me completely, because I have before and particularly after this situation from Saigon, had a very bad image of the Americans in general. Even though I had a lot of good friends and close friends from my American advisor collaborators when we were in Saigon."

"The reason I was surprised is that I saw the American people as a military people and technicians. And certainly they were only the expeditors of certain policies that we don't always appreciate. And what I am surprised is, that these people here, this group of American friends, who always try to give us this help at the present time...this love...and they try to give us this confidence in ourselves during this so dramatic period...this so dramatic situation. And I think it is the best thing...it is the most precious thing."

"When we left Saigon, when we left our country, we abandoned everything. And we are now, practically speaking, like the leaves the wind blows. I am sorry also, that the contrary may be true. Maybe the American people got before also the very bad image from the Vietnamese people. And it is not the exact image. So that I hope we can get more comprehension, and this comprehension based on love, will help us to be able to bring some contribution to this country. Because we don't like to be the burden to the American people."

"We come here because of a certain special circumstance. And I think Americans have to admit this fact of reality."

Concerning the evacuation: "I intended to leave Saigon only on the last minute. Certainly because of my position. President Thieu had left; Air Marshal Ky, The Prime Minister of this so called National Union Cabinet in which I participated. The men from the government party left three days before."

After Dr. Niem was helicoptered from a capitulating Saigon, he was transferred to the Seventh Fleet and to a cargo ship where he and 7,000 other people were transported in the cargo hold for four days to the Philippines.

After a week in the Philippines, Dr. Niem was transferred to Guam and an American friend interceded and he was transferred to Fort Chaffee in Arkansas.

In the meantime, his frightened family, including his mother, speaking no English, anxiously awaited word of him here in Placentia, after leaving Saigon a week earlier than he and ending in Camp Pendleton where relatives and Placentia's Calvary Church interceded. A cousin, Ton That Cuong, has been living in this area and working on his doctorate at UCLA.

"Life has for us a lot of surprises," the doctor contemplates.

Concerning the evacuation and the immigration of the Vietnamese people: "I may be wrong, but it seems to me that this rescue operation was not exactly organized. It was in disorder. It was not planned. And a lot of people, they like to leave, because they are afraid for their lives."

"The Vietnamese suffer a lot...a lot of suffering that myself and my family, my relatives in my country, but now we suffer more when we see the fall of Vietnam...and the feeling of not being able to contribute to our country. Such agony. We tried to save the country. There were many left there who would like to have left."

"When I talk about Nationalists, they cannot live under Communist regime. It will be their Vietnam. I have had no communication with the country since I left. I would like to forget the past--I am deeply moved. We are all responsible. And I still hope that maybe this defeat from the Nationalists camp, even at so high a price, perhaps could bring peace to the majority."

"We (my family) have a problem. It doesn't surprise us. I am a doctor. I have to prepare again. There are possibilities of a special training program from the federal government. I hope it will be realized for the benefit of all.

"I would like to practice medicine. I have no choice. I must support my family. People here have made a lot of effort to help me."

At Fort Chaffee, Dr. Niem was the spokesman for 130 doctors, 60 pharmacists and 30 dentists.

"We do not want to be a burden on the new society...we need a comprehensive plan and I think for each case there should be a case worker to analyze each one so help is more efficient...with understanding. What they need in the private and official sector is better organization."

"Now it depends on whether you are lucky or not. That is not a good plan. My people need the possibilities of training for a new skill."

"The Vietnamese are patient enough and realistic. We are trying to see the broad view of the future...not to see the past."

"What I try to get is not for me. I have no illusions now. The problem for me now is how to survive, because the people, they wish to really like the country. Now it is very hard to realize...very hard to be a part of the life. It takes a special psychology. I would like to say, they suffer strongly. Only people who feel strongly can understand."

"Everybody was very exhausted through this long, hard and dangerous trip from the evacuation. Personally, I lost about ten pounds."

And not all of the doctor's family escaped. "Unfortunately for my wife it is not the case...not all family members are out. A lot of brothers and sisters were left so that it is a problem for me. We are trying to get them out."

"We have reached the fact of reality now. It is in the past now. Even if I had to do this suffering all of my life, there is nothing I can do. I have to think of the future. I have at the same time this feeling that I did not get yet the opportunities to contribute to the nation. Because, to be under the military regime is far different."

"With my experience as a politician I can say to you that politicians are like artists, that when the curtain falls, they have to live maybe, in the memory of the people. It is their only consolation."

(Next week, Placentia's growing Vietnamese colony and the work of the Calvary Church and Rev. Phil Lewis.)

By Jack Scarpa

A mile below the terrain spread out in a panorama of spectacular beauty, and in the interior of the big jet, a pretty, orange-clad stewardess moved efficiently up and down the aisle serving coffee. The coffee was hot, black and good, and I felt great.

Then Bonnie leaned over and whispered, "You know Jack, I was just thinking that we ought to make out a will. Think what a time the kids would have if something happened to us," and she peered fearfully down at the craggy mountains lying innocently in the sunshine.

The only time we discuss wills are in airplanes and that's because she's scared of flying. Familiar with this quirk, I handed her a pen and agreed she should write out a will. She is getting pretty good at covering all the fine details. This would make our third will and someday we probably would take one to an attorney and have it officially drawn up.

I hoped she hadn't heard that fellow last week, who said, "Everytime I am up there in one of those big babies, flying through the clouds, I always remember that the jet is made of 500,000 parts and all of them made by the low bidder."

I glanced at her sideways and she seemed more relaxed, busy writing away when suddenly she stopped, turned and said thoughtfully, almost to herself, "Do you suppose this thing really has 500,000 parts?"

Oh well, win some and lose some. The trip was fun anyway, and that third will is a dandy.

Paintings

A local area artist from the Placentia Art Association has hung several of her original acrylic paintings in the Herbert Hawkins office. Drop in and see them anytime. They will be on display for eight weeks and are available for sale. The artist is Ruby Neal and the paintings are beautifully executed and framed. Some of the titles include Sunrise, Balboa, Flowering Branch and Golden Forest. The prices range from $50 to $150 each.

Ruby has won many prizes for her creative paintings and we are honored to have her work on our walls to brighten the day and make us remember that life is a lot more than contracts and sales.

Three Days

Yesterday....
Like money spent, is past recall;
Its echo dimmed beyond time's wall.

Tomorrow....
Is never promised earthly man,
Nor does it often fit a plan.

Today....
Is gold that covers hill and dell,
And rich are they who use it well.

Emerson Said

"Life is a series of surprises, and would not be worth taking or keeping if it were not."

Britisher Enjoys YL

Hugh Shelbourn, from England, has been a guest for five days at the home of Lloyd and Aleta Cannon.

Rotary District #532 hosted their third Group Study Exchange; and six young men from diversified fields were chosen to come here to study business procedures.

In the six weeks here, there have covered many places of business and entertainment from San Clemente and Long Beach to Yorba Linda and Fullerton with 43 Rotary groups participating.

Hugh had never seen a mobile home park and was amazed at the beauty of Lake Park. He and a friend spent a most relaxing afternoon at the Gazebo plunge, swimming and visiting with some Lake Parkers.

Their sojourn ended with a dinner at the Hyatt House for all dignitaries and hosts. At that time, Hugh said that he hoped to bring his wife and come back to California again.

Next year Rotary District #532 will send six young men to England.

A DISCUSSION of women in politics brought together Yorba Linda Mayor, Carolyn Ewing; La Habra Mayor, Beth Graham and Jean Pappas, member of the board of the Placentia Unified School District at a meeting of the Yorba Linda Republican Women. A luncheon followed in the home of club president Kathleen Huff.

Largest Model T On Display

The world's largest Model "T" will be on exhibit today, (Wednesday) from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. at Tastee Freez, 17541 Yorba Linda Boulevard, Yorba Linda.

The "Big T" is the largest Model "T" in the world. Originally designed for Tastee Freez by George Barris and just recently re-designed for 1975 by Dan Woods, it is composed of authentic Model "T" parts, oversized DC-9 airplane tires, and powered by a Chrysler 440 hemi engine.

Headlights and taillights are fashioned from original brass Model "T" components. The hand-built radiator, also brass, and four times larger than an original Model "T" radiator, is capped off with a Tastee cone.

The "Big T" carries a giant model of a Tastee burger at the rear. Lodged inside the Tastee burger is a Moon fuel tank, well-known to "car buffs". The entire car rests on a 105-inch chassis of steel rails.
